Human Trafficking Awareness and Education Training

Connecticut has one of the highest rates of human trafficking in the United States (National Human Trafficking Resource Center, 2016). We can change that through education and awareness.

The MILLA Project is proud to provide free human trafficking training to reduce trafficking in Connecticut. Universities, colleges, business professionals, healthcare providers, tourism and hospitality managers/staff, and community members can help end trafficking.

Call 203-936-8039 or email us at info@millaproject.org for more information.

Learn the indicators so you can help identify a potential victim of trafficking!
